

As a resident of Indiana I am opposed to allowing banks to intrude on my privacy just because I have a "relationship" with them. They should conduct business using normal channels and with respect for privacy just as I have to when trying to contact or conduct business with them.